Transfusion Might Help Flying and Influenza Bonus for Singed Lambs? What Did Moran Think?
By Arthur Brisbane

GREAT BRITAIN was cheered by hopes that the King might recover. It was felt hope, for doctors, after operating, reported indications of continued blood infection.

In case of blood stream infection, American surgeons resort to blood transfusion, with remarkable success.

The King, exhausted by long illness, the fighting strength of his blood low, might find resisting power in new blood from a strong man.

Transfusion of a pint, two or three days apart, have worked wonders in cases of toxemia. Once used only as a last resort, transfusion is now in constant use here.

The country is indebted to President Coolidge for deep interest shown in aviation and recommendations for airplane expenditures in his message, and his part in the celebration of the Wright Brothers' flying anniversary.

Yesterday, famous fliers, with government officials of 40 nations, discussed in Washington national problems that will arise as air transportation across continents and oceans develops.

National cooperation is necessary that the air may be free to all, as the ocean is free.

In another Washington building, experts were discussing the possibility of checking influenza, alarming in various places, although fortunately not as bad as 1919. Deaths in 15 cities total 139 for the week ending December 8.

Kansas leads in the number of cases reported, 13,596, but it is believed only one-fifth of all cases are reported.

What causes influenza nobody knows. It is suggested by serious cases that "interfering dust clouds" may be responsible. Although influenza was here last year, it was not so bad. This time the disease is traveling from west to east.

Next against with its own deadly influence, "sneezing" has again begun to appear. It is suggested by serious cases that "interfering dust clouds" may be responsible. Although influenza was here last year, it was not so bad. This time the disease is traveling from west to east.

Workers in Wall St. will receive larger pay because this year, resulting from 10 per cent of their annual wages, and totaling tens of millions. The men have worked hard and bonuses will be welcome.

Something in the way of a bonus would also be welcome by little lambs that recently have had their wool singed. Seven hundred and fifty of them whose accounts are said to have been closed in one broker's house, would appreciate a bonus. "Money" dropped to 6 per cent yesterday. That is a sort of bonus.

What do you suppose "Red" Moran thought about last night, listening to music in his den, while other Red Sox prisoners were enjoying the annual "coveit frolic" presented by the "No No Nannette" with music by a jazz band.

Not to apoll the evening, prison authorities kindly decided to postpone "Reds" trip to the electric chair until 3 o'clock this morning.

To sit in a "pre-execution" cell, while others laughed and music played, then stur and red along the hall through the door across the floor to the death chair seems a strange end.

If we heard of savages that kept a prisoner listening to music for a few hours before killing him, we should marvel about it, as we do about the savages that fatten their misadvent.

Without a word of debate, the Senate yesterday increased by $150,000,000 the Treasury Department's appropriation for enforcing prohibition. Prohibition has more of a grip on the Senate than on the public.

Some believe it would be better for the Government to let beer and light wines, making $200,000,000 profit, rather than spend $200,000,000 to put the country on a bootleg "dry" basis.

But speculation is useless. Prohibition is here to stay, at least as long as this generation stays.

'MISTRIAL' VOTE NEAR ON KELIHER ON DAM

Washington, Dec. 14 (INS)—A record of victory, supporters of the Boulder Dam bill were protesting the measure against superfluous amendments today.

Minor revisions were rejected one after another as the Senate, in supporting Senator Johnson (R., Cal.), author of the bill, appeared for quick action.

The first amendment to go down was that of Senator Hiram (D., Ariz.), providing Arizona might levy taxes upon power output of any private concern which built a plant at Boulder Dam. This was defeated, 43 to 39.

The Boulder Dam question was also brought before the House when the co-author of the bill, Clifford (R., Ill.), reported the report of the Senate. While disagreeing with some phases of the report, he asserted as a whole it had proved very argument made in behalf of the project.

Why Can Not the United States Mind Its Own Business?

Would it not be wonderful if the Government of the United States would only attend to the affairs of the United States and not try to regulate all the rest of the world?

Would it not be a "grand and glorious feeling" for the people of the United States if they could only know that the people of this country and of the people of this country?

Our Government seems to think it has a mandate to concern itself with matters in Europe, Asia, Africa, South America and Australia; while the politicians would only study the elections they would see that the Government has had a very definite mandate from the people of this country.

Mr. Wilson was the first one to think that he knew more than George Washington and to insist on entangling this country with foreign nations.

He was elected the first time he ran through the fortune, or, unfortunately, chance of a split in the Republican party.

But the second time he ran he received a genuine endorsement and an actual election and wholly on the assertion, which became a campaign slogan—that he had kept us out of war.

The mandate of the people of the United States therefore, in that election was plainly to continue to keep the country free from foreign entanglements.

But Mr. Wilson disregarded the mandate of the people and the injunction of George Washington, and the practice Please Turn to Page 34, Column 1.

Island, and docked at Pier 64, North River.

Employees of the Cunard line immediately began to transfer the royal passengers' baggage from the ship to the Berengaria, which the Prince hopes will carry him across the Atlantic in time for him to reach the King's bedside within a week.

The Coast Guard cutter Calumet steamed down the bay to escort the ship to her dock.

However, in accordance with the request of the British embassy that no formal welcome be given Prince George, the Calumet carried no official committee of reception.

The Prince spent part of the afternoon seeing the sights of the city, the motorcade around town with the British ambassador, visiting, among other places, the Metropolitan Museum of Art and the Evans Park Zoo.

Prince George will have dinner this evening with the ambassador at a private home.

CHERISHED BY NEWS

A gauntlet was run from the lower level of the pier to the side of the cruiser, and Vincent Massey, Canadian minister to the United States, and a party of Canadian officials went aboard. Later, the cutter was boarded by Sir James Howard, British ambassador to the United States, accompanied by J. H. Ritchie, naval attaché to the British embassy.

Mr. Massey brought the latest report of King George's condition. A smile of relief passed over the Prince's face when he heard that his father's condition was much improved.

After the greeting the Prince left for the Hotel Prince for luncheon. He made the trip in the company of Sir Massey and the ship was for him to remain at the hotel for the rest of the day.

Lord Julian, aide to the Prince, said to reporters this statement:

"For a long time his royal highness has been considering the advisability of his return home. As will be realized, his anxiety increased daily, as no definite improvement in his father's condition was reported, and realizing the strain this illness of his father must put on a patient of over 60 years of age, he decided to return home. This decision was made by his royal highness himself."

TO TALK WITH QUEEN

"Although His Majesty's condition, subsequent to his recent operation, has shown improvement, His Majesty's illness is still naturally serious. His royal highness wishes to spend a few hours before he embarks on the steamship Devonian."

Arrangements were made to let the Prince talk to his mother, Queen Mary, over the transatlantic wireless telephone.

Half an hour after he should have arrived at the Plaza, the Prince had not appeared, and the hotel demanded that the Prince be sent for him. Newspaper reporters and photographers, awaiting him there, began to search elsewhere.

SEIZE HOLIDAY RUM ON FARM

The seized liquor, containing in large part of choice champagnes, was found secured on a farm on Norton ave., South Boston, where John Strong was arrested in the course of the raid.

Strong will be arraigned in federal court in New Bedford next Monday on a charge of illegal possession of intoxicating liquors, according to officials.

Prohibition agents said the liquor was of the highest grade seized in the vicinity in several years.

On the farm the agents reported they found a huge iron pipe in the yard, on which an electric-driven press was standing. They tore off the saw, ripped up the pipe, which proved to be a trapdoor, and found a concrete vault underneath.

The liquor was taken to the army base for safekeeping. Officials say it is only a small part of the stock that was hidden at Falmouth two months ago when agents watched on the phone but failed to detect the loot where the landing was made.

London Is Again Hopeful as King Gains

London, Dec. 14 (INS)—King George's condition continued improved today, according to the official morning bulletin issued by the royal physicians.

The official spokesman at Buckingham Palace stated at 1 o'clock this morning that the King had spent a fairly comfortable night, during which he managed to obtain several hours of sleep.

The spokesman, usually most reticent, indicated that the royal family was somewhat relieved over the King's condition, although still extremely anxious and not minimizing the dangers which must be reckoned with by the survivors during the next few days.

"We are most jubilant over the result of the operation," the palace official declared, "if it is felt in royal circles that life Majesty has every chance of recovery, although it is realized that there are many anxious days ahead."

The crest of the situation now appears to hinge upon the King's ability to maintain his strength within the next 24 hours.

His Majesty does not appear to have lost any ground since his operation, according to the general belief expressed in medical circles.

Although he is admittedly in a weakened condition, his weakness in itself is regarded as unusual, in view of the fact that he has had undergone a serious and exhausting operation.

It is believed that as long as his pulse remains steady, he will continue to cope with the general fever, and gradually recover his recuperative power.

The latest official word directly from a palace official was contained in a message sent by Lord Stamfordham, the King's private secretary, on behalf of Queen Mary in reply to President Coolidge's cordial message to the King.

REPLY TO COOLIDGE

This message said:

"The Queen is most grateful to you, Mr. President, for your kind message, of which His Majesty will in due course be informed as soon as his strength permits. Though the recent operation successfully treated one phase of the King's serious illness, the consequences of the general infection will entail weeks of slow and anxious progress before convalescence can be reached."

"The Duke of York's birthday today—he is 35 years of age—was celebrated quietly in view of the King's illness."

WATCHING FOR "MAMA"

Well, everyone can dry their tears now. There isn't any Tillie Oakley either.

The story was that Tillie, nine-year-old daughter of tenant on a mountain tobacco farm near here, was convinced by a more sophisticated schoolmate that Santa was a myth. Her blindness shattered, she suffered a physical breakdown and had to be placed under medical treatment.

The touching story was given newspapers and press associations by a country correspondent for Kentucky papers and was printed widely in this country and Canada. The day after it was published telegrams and letters poured in to Paris addressed to "Tillie Oakley," assuring her that in all truth there is a Santa and urging her to get well in time for his visit on Christmas eve. Pucklers followed the mounting tale.

But search by the men who help Santa Claus distribute his gifts and messages of good cheer failed to find the poor little girl reported weeping away her heart for a vanished myth. Hearst of this, the Associated Press, which had accepted the original story in good faith, instituted a separate investigation, sending a reporter out among the tobacco farms to find Tillie Oakley.

She wasn't there. She never had been there so far as any resident could remember.

ly men and girls on their way to work in the factory district of Cambridge, where the Lever Brothers plant is situated, witnessed the fire. It was confined to a fire-stone cement building in the top of which a started.

A workman told L. B. Seekin, a foreman, of unsmoking smoke and flames ran to the tower and at the same time the fire was forced to retreat and with difficulty made the lower floors, where, found the night watchman, William Gustafson, and sent him out to sound an alarm.

The cause of the fire was not determined. The flames leaped downward through three floors, but soap ran over all the stairways to the basement and made the footing dangerous for firemen.

DONOVAN BARES CASE AGAINST SINCLAIR CO.

Work of the Interior Department, and cancelled last October after an inquiry by the Department of Justice.

"What is the object of filing fraud papers now?" asked Senator Walden Donovan, chairman of the Senate committee on the Interior Department, after the contract is cancelled?

"For recovery to the government," replied Donovan.

The Donovan statement came in the public hands committee inquiry into the Justice Department's handling of the case.

The Mammoth Oil Company also was named in the prepared contract petition read by Donovan. He indicated the Government was prepared to institute proceedings at an early date, and that action might have been taken already but for the Senate inquiry proceedings.

During the testimony Donovan and Senator Walsh exchanged words concerning publication by the New York World of stories concerning the purchase of the Mammoth oil field before it was officially announced by the department. The stories gave Senator Walsh as the source and Mr. Donovan said:

"I'll say this, not in criticism, but it struck me that it would have been very decent if you had come to me with your story instead of going to the New York World. I had asked your co-operation."

"Very good," Mr. Walsh said. "I'll give you my reaction. I found that the department had presented to your before me and committee after that had not told me what the protest."

"Why didn't you call me," said Donovan, "and ask me 'what about this?'"

"I gave you my reaction," Walsh retorted.

"I have submitted my reaction," Donovan replied.

Donovan testified that the report that the contract was nullified awaited the signature of Mr. Sargent for a week before it was announced on October 11.

"I got in touch with you," Donovan said, speaking to Walsh across the table, "and we agreed I think that it would be difficult to invalidate the contract unless we could show fraud. You (Senator Walsh) said you thought it would be difficult to do that."

"We had been acting on the theory that the original Sinclair contract was conceived in fraud or improper dealing," he said.

'TOMBOY' IS PERFECT GIRL, WINS MT. HOLYOKE CUP

Miss Mary Elizabeth Reynolds of Newton Highlands, who has just been awarded the Sarah Streeter cup as the most physically perfect senior at Mt. Holyoke College, is a "tomboy." Outdoor sports and exercise keep her in trim. She taboos pastries and sweets and uses coffee only sparingly. She takes no "sitting up" exercises and she is a lover of nature.

MISS REYNOLDS KEEPS FIT AT ATHLETICS

The "tomboy" perfect girl to the withering rebukes of her "sisters under the skin" is the silver cup won by Mary Elizabeth Reynolds of Newton Highlands for being the most physically fit member of the senior class at Mt. Holyoke College. The winner of the Sarah Streeter Cup today admitted "tomboy tendencies in my childhood" and declared these equipped her for a wide variety of outdoor games.

"I don't profess to be unusually athletic, but I was always prepared for any sport that came up," she said. "I am particularly keen for soccer, tennis, baseball, swimming and walking. I don't do setting-up exercises."

"My recipe for good health is to lead a normal, balanced life, engage in normal activities and exercises, have varied interests and cultivate a sensible diet."

"Sweets and pastries are taboo, but I am a firm believer in eating three square meals a day and I drink tea and enjoy coffee. But I use coffee conservatively."

"I make it a practice to retire early, but I enjoy dancing and naturally that requires late hours occasionally."

It would be too much to expect she could keep well, too, but this is the fact, according to her classmates, and she confessed a liking for domestic tasks.

Miss Reynolds is 23 years old, five feet two and one-half inches tall and weighs 127 pounds, and her eyes are blue and twinkling.

She was selected only after a close contest with another girl and the judges did not make the decision until they had observed the posture, carriage and vitality of each in uncontrived moments.

Mystery Theft of Pup From Police Solved and, then, children, the had lit a log that had run away from the station. The dog was never seen again—except perhaps in Court street.

It was a little Pomeranian, and dropped out of sight on November 12, in a vanishing completely mysterious until today, when a 11-year-old boy was arraigned in line, charged with picking it up on his Ma and going South with it.

It was at least as far as New York. In court, the boy confessed he also stole the little Pomeranian from police. He had let the dog stray from the house of Mrs. T. N. Elliott of Tremont st., Atlantic, where he had been picked up by the police.

When Mrs. Elliott went to claim her pet it was discovered to have been taken from the doghouse in the Quincy city stables.

POLICE IN NEW 'WAR' ON AUTO DRIVERS

Capt. John M. Anderson of Division 10 today recommended the revocation of licenses of all operators of motor cars whose cars have been involved in accidents in Commonwealth.

No matter how minor the accident, if investigation reveals that one of the operators has been guilty of the slightest intention, a recommendation that his license be revoked will be sent to Registrar Barker. Many such recommendations already have been forwarded, it was revealed.

The crusade initiated by Capt. Anderson resulted from the fact that during the last 11 months 10 persons have been killed on Commonwealth ave., four of them at the corner of Fairfield st.

Eight police have been placed on special traffic duty in Commonwealth ave., several speed traps are in operation, no excuses are accepted and no cases filed. Every violator of the law goes into court, even if only for failing to slow down at an intersecting street.

BLOOD TRAIL TRAPS TWO

A trail of bloodstains led Special Officers McCoy and Patterson from Grove and Chelsea sts., East Boston, to a house a quarter of a mile away on Bremen st., and resulted in the arrest of Antonio Venutti and Frank Gahall, both of Sullivan st., North End, on charges of mutual assault and battery.

A quarrel over a girl led to the fight, in which knives were used, according to the police. Each was held in $500 bail for a hearing December 21.

Venutti was found in bed at the Bremen st. house, his face and hands covered with wounds which required treatment at the East Boston Relief hospital before he was taken to the police station. Gahall was arrested at home.

MAGRATH HOLDS TELL DEATH CONFERENCE

Unable to make up his mind whether Philip Caranza, Wallingford, was murdered or shot, Magrath of Boston today held a conference at the scene of the shooting in the barn left in the rear of 21 Clifford st., Woburn.

Mr. Magrath said he wished to confer with Capt. Charles Van Amburgh, state firearms expert, and also to look over the left before making his report.

When he arrived Capt. Van Amburgh, together with State Inspectors Fleming and Perras and Chief William J. Fleming of the Woburn police, were waiting for him.

No details were obtainable concerning the autopsy performed by Magrath. It was apparent he had been unable to determine whether death was instantaneous, which would have clinched the murder theory.

If the autopsy showed, on the other hand, that no vital spot was reached by the shotgun shot, it would have been possible for Caranza to have made his way from the barn loft to the well where his body was found.

In the meantime investigation of the "case had come to a complete standstill," as the authorities have been unable to proceed without Magrath's report and without a murder motive.

Trouble Multiples For Hyman Cohen

Found guilty of operating an auto under the influence of liquor, Hyman Cohen of Dorchester, was fined $200 today in Boston court. He was also fined $5 for driving with improper lights and $20 for failing to stop on signal of an officer.

He appealed all three cases. According to Patrolman Maxwell and Sgt. Hadden, Cohen was chased along Commonwealth ave., Alton, one officer using a commandeer's flashlight and the other a private car.

INVESTMENT TRUST TO TOP N. E. BUSINESS

COUNCIL URGED TO THINK FOR ACTIVE STOCKS

Providence, Dec. 14—Many New England industries are suffering from inactive stock interests because large blocks of their shares are owned by widows or orphans or are held in trust, John S. Lawrence, retiring president of the New England Council, declared at the 13th quarterly meeting of the organization.

He proposed measures for "turning the liability of the dead hand into a live asset."

"The most important factor in business," he said, "is good management, which presupposes good directorship, and active stock holdings are necessary for good directorship."

"Too often directors have to succeed themselves indefinitely while responsible to no interested groups of stockholders. In many cases no competent boards of directors can be selected from existing stockholders."

INVESTMENT TRUST.
"I think that the solution of this problem is already at hand and that we only need to recognize it and apply it," he referred to a logical development of what is generally called "a investment trust."

"At present the investment trust specializes in the investing of your money and my money in an intelligent manner. In an investment trust, which is a group of investors supporting a competent investigating staff, we find the change from the unskillful stockholder to the most intelligent stockholder."

"I do not think this turning of the liability of the dead hand into a live asset is difficult of accomplishment. There is, necessarily, first, a clearing house where trust companies and others responsible for investments may register their stock interests and record their total ownership; second, the selection of good management for these groups, which should not be difficult and third, a charge on income or principal or both, recorded by trustee, beneficiary and our courts, and viewed as a justifiable expense for protection and increase of value, just as fire insurance, or wages of executives are recognized as justifiable expenses."

TRUST TO LAWRENCE.
Lawrence was told tribute by his associates for services to New England during his three years as leader of the council, the all-New England development organization formed in 1925 at the instigation of the Governors of the six New England states.

With Herbert Packer, chairman of the council, the all-New England development organization formed in 1925 at the instigation of the Governors of the six New England states.

Immediately after the afternoon session, Mr. Lawrence, chairman of the Rhode Island Council, in his life, Mr. Lawrence presented to Lawrence, on behalf of the New England Governors and the Council, a specially made replica of the blazer "Wentworth Bowl" as a memento of his three years' service.

The Massachusetts assessment of the $300,000 to be spent next year in advertising and promoting New England will be $155,000. It was decided, based on population, the following ratio of quotas to be raised in the six New England States was agreed upon:

Massachusetts, $155,000; Connecticut, $40,000; Maine, $25,000; Rhode Island, $26,100; New Hampshire, $18,000; and Vermont, $16,900.

Arthur L. Alfred, of Providence was re-elected secretary.

15 Fined in Newton Auto Safety Drive

The first results of the campaign against defective brakes being waged in Newton were realized in the Newton District Court when 15 motorists were arraigned on charges of motor vehicle violations. Fines totaling $200 were imposed.

Officer Bart Cullen, police mechanic, tested the machines of all of the defendants when they were recently, and subsequent charges of defective brakes or improper lights were made. The drive will continue with the officers working in different sections of the city daily.

New Tenant Is Fined $200 On Rum Charge

According to the evidence McKenna started business in the three-family house there last Saturday. The following Thursday Sgt. Harvey raided the place, seizing two gallons of liquor found under the stairs leading to the top floor.

NORTH STATION KELLOGG PACT TRAFFIC IS COUNTED VOTE HALTED BY REED

The North Station area was thoroughly "checked" today and the counting of pedestrians will continue until midnight.

Thirty counters, under the direction of City Traffic Engineer John P. Hurley, were deployed through that district at an early hour and began checking at 7 A. M.

Pedestrians were tallied as they entered or left the railroad terminal or passed along Causeway st., between Merriam and Nulton sts., and also entering and leaving the elevated stations.

Today was chosen because of the hating hours tonight at the Boston Garden, which will give experts a chance to analyze the situation under extreme conditions. Next Tuesday the same checkers will register vehicular traffic and on the following Thursday will make a tally of parkers, all in the same area.

Several additions of congestion there have been suggested, including a tunnel under Causeway st., from Canal st., to the terminal, and the placing of signal lights at Kneass sq., the junction of Causeway and North Washington st.

Request for the traffic count was made in Mayor Nichols by President Hennessey of the Boston & Maine.

SETTLE BROWN FOOTBALL STRIKE

Providence, Dec. 14—It appeared today as if there were some chance all for the discomfited Brown University football players who didn't win their "D's" and were so angry about it that they threatened to go on a "hunger strike" as far as post-season banquets were concerned.

Dr. W. W. Marvel, director of athletics at Brown, declared today that he, Coach "Tuck" McLaughry and Athletic Council Chairman Charles P. Brown have conferred with the disgruntled football players and have reached an "amicable understanding."

The athletic council will at once consider the advisability of reviewing the matter of letter awards. Dr. Marvel asserted. He said further that the council's original sentiment was in favor of giving out more "D's" than the 11 which seemed so inadequate to the team.

The undergraduates' council and Coach McLaughry set the 11 limit in their recommendation only to have the senior council send the recommendation back. The students and coach stuck to their guns, however, and the senior council gave in. Now it's up to the senior council again, Dr. Marvel declared.

PAN-AMERICAN CONFERENCE VOICES BOLIVIA-PARAGUAY PEACE

from Argentina that she valued any peace, rather than a war.

This opened the way for decisive action. It was emphasized, however, that whereas Argentina was undertaking to mediate the whole vast problem of boundary relations between Paraguay and Bolivia, the arbitration conference would deal only with the commercial problem of the difficulties arising out of the recent clash of troops on the boundary.

The Bolivia minister, Dr. Diego de Medina, declined to attend today's session because, he said, he lacked specific instructions. The minister said his course was to in line with his government's refusal to discuss conciliation matters in the Bolivia-Paraguay conference without first receiving orders from Paraguay.

Minister de Medina emphasized, however, that he would attend all meetings of that body which were related directly to the conclusion of arbitration and conciliation treaties and not concerned with the boundary.

New York, Dec. 14 (INS)—The United Fruit liner Santa Marta arrived here today, the first ship to come from the zone of the Colombian banana trade uprising, bearing the story of how 40,000 banana workers disrupted the first continent of the Colombian troops who imposed law and three times they imposed law.

The strikers turned and derided several freight trains and cut off telephone and telegraph communications, officers of the ship said.

A declaration of martial law was followed by the dispatching of a gunboat and a greater force of troops that finally quelled the insurrection, they said. Three of the ringleaders, said to have been natives from Mexico, were taken prisoners and placed in iron about the ship. More than 100 strikers were killed and 500 wounded.

American residents had armed themselves with shotguns and had taken their stand on the main street of Santa Marta, expecting that the insurgent might at any time attack the city, but there was no actual fighting in the town at any time.

The day after the soldiers had regained control of the situation, look on its fall about 100 strikers and came safely through to New York after three days' delay.

Hunted Here
HUNT HERE FOR ROTSTEIN SLAYER
and is being held without bail in the Tombs.
Both Biller and McManus, together with two others named in the indictment warrants only as John Doe and Richard Roe, are accused of being present in Room 549 at the Park Central Hotel, New York, where Rotstein, the man who dabbled in the money market, was shot.
Boston police made a search today that the present search is the second intensive here for the former Bostonian.
The New York police telephoned Chief Inspector Alvin C. Armstrong, head of the division of criminal investigation of the Hub force, to ask the police to help in the investigation that Biller registered at a hotel here.
SEARCH ALL HOTELS.
Inspectors Thomas Towle and John Holmes were immediately assigned to the case and given a dozen other inspectors to assist them in searching all the hotels. As far as was possible a thorough check was made on all the hotels and departing guests.
This hunt lasted two days, at the end of which time Inspector Patrick Flood of the 47th at police station, "resident" precinct, in the heart of the Broadway white light district, was told to search all the hotels.
Flood knew Rotstein well and he was sure that he knew better than to let him go. Rotstein's reply was "You know better than to let me go, Pat." The New York Inspector came to Boston to participate in the search because his superior had ordered him to do so. He was in the city because of his superior's order and because District Attorney James M. McManus had ordered him to do so. He was in the city because of his superior's order and because District Attorney James M. McManus had ordered him to do so.
HE WAS IN VAIN.
For another 48 hours the search progressed only to be relinquished at 10 o'clock today. A relative of Biller declared that "Gilly" had positively not been here for four years.
Another individual who was questioned because of his known friendship with Biller in the past told him: "His lawyer told me on the phone today he's going to surrender to Boston tomorrow at 10 a. m." Flood returned to New York but the promised surrender, if there ever was such a promise, never took place and a result the hunt was relaunching today, with the New York authorities more confident than before that Biller's "hideout" is in the vicinity.
According to the police, several "sources," meaning phone and individuals, that may lead to his arrest, are being watched.
Biller, the police learned, originally cut off from Boston 13 years ago, becoming linked with the case at Saratoga and Belmont and about a year ago. It is understood, however, that Biller's "hideout" is in the vicinity.
FLACIO AT SCENE OF CRIME.
In this situation he was naturally thrown into contact with Arnold Rotstein quite frequently. Boston police were told by New York officials it has been definitely established that Biller was in the room at the time of the shooting. Biller was "picked up" for questioning a few hours after the murder but was released after he explained that he left the hotel and returned to the room only to find Rotstein had received the fatal wound in his abdomen.
This story is in most respects similar to that ascribed to Rotstein, who in his haste left his coat behind him for the police to find. "Stumpy" McManus' friends say he has a perfect alibi.
The flouting of Biller is one of the most highly important aspects of the attempt to unravel the mystery of Rotstein's life and death.

FIGHT TO SAVE VETERAN FROM DRUG HABIT

Doctors at Deer Island today began a dramatic effort to restore Mitchell Malouf, a disabled veteran of the 101st Regiment, back to health and away from a drug habit that he had formed, seeking relief from his wounds.

Malouf was sent to Deer Island for three months for treatment for the drug habit after being found by a doctor at the 101st Regiment, while he tried to assuage the pains and aches of wounds received in France.

Diet-Atty. Foley also pleaded for the wounded war veteran, for whom the war, 10 years after, had not ended, as the drug habit gripped him. It was decided that the best disposition for Malouf would be to send him to Deer Island, where he could get fresh air, a chance to be out of doors and an opportunity to have his wounds treated.

While the case was in the lower court, Atty. James A. Treacher, who has done much to aid disabled veterans, tried to solve the difficulties which surrounded Malouf. The latter was a member of the 101st Regiment and fought in the World War. At Verdun, October 23, 1918, he was shot by German gas line gun bullets in 15 places, between the knee and hip. An open wound resulted.

Since then he has had 15 operations, the last four without taking anesthesia. He was wracked with continual pain and narcotics were given to relieve his suffering. Finally, when out of the hospital, he refused to drugs on his own initiative and became a confirmed addict. On October 11 he became desperate, forged a prescription and was arrested. The court was considerably troubled by the case.

Nab Girl and Man In Hub Dope Raid

Two persons were arrested and 210 grains of opium seized in a raid today on a South Huntington avenue apartment, made by Special Officers Frank Monahan and John Laidlaw. Police claim when the officers entered the apartment they found Edward Brunsy cooking an opium pill, while a girl giving her name as Helen Jones, living at a different address on South Huntington avenue, was seated nearby.

Brunsy was charged with unlawful possession of the opium and the girl with being present where narcotic drugs were found. The opium, discovered under an oil lamp, was taken to headquarters.

$500,000,000 IN NEW MERGER

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—American Radiator Company officials today disclosed that negotiations were under way for a merger with Standard Sanitary Manufacturing Company of Pittsburgh, one of the leading manufacturers of plumbing supplies.

Consolidation would result in a $500,000,000 concern, at present stock market value of American Radiator having valuation of $272,000,000 and Standard Sanitary Manufacturing nearly $171,000,000. Committees representing both companies are working on details with all indications that the merger will be effected within a month.

The two companies are not competitors, as Standard manufactures principally bathroom fixtures, while American Radiator produces boilers, radiators, malleable iron, steel castings, heating apparatus, valves, cleaners, lubricating devices, carburetors and valves.

URGENT OLIVER ST. BUILDING FOR U. S. COURTS

Recommendation of the building of Oliver st., as the first choice for temporary quarters for the U. S. courts and allied divisions of the Department of Justice during construction of the new Federal Building, was forwarded to Washington today by H. H. Pearson, supervising engineer of Federal activities in this district.

Washington architects have examined the dozen or more sites submitted recently through bids.

An second choice, Pearson named Young's Hotel, which had previously been turned down in Washington because of the rent figure.

In Washington the Oliver st. building will be studied with a view to determining the transformation from present interior arrangement to suit Federal needs.

82-Year-Old 'Love Pirate' Must Pay $1 Heart Balm

Moorestown, Minn., Dec. 14—An 82-year-old man was penalized $1 here for alienating the affections of Mrs. L. J. Bowman, 53, from her 65-year-old husband.

H. C. Doyle, the defendant, a former mayor of Clyden, Minn., was sued for $25,000 by Dr. Bowman.

Doyle wrote poetry and love lyrics to Mrs. Bowman, her husband charged, and asked for her hand in marriage after telling her that her husband was becoming mentally unbalanced.

Mrs. Bowman admitted the poetry to a jury of nine married men and three bachelors.

CO-EDS TO ID ORPHANS

One girl is getting into the life of Christmas goodfellowship, the co-eds at two of Boston University's colleges planning to help the orphans for the kiddies at several orphan and orphan's homes.

7 girls at the B. U. College of Art will entertain a group of children from the Norfolk, Mass. and Elizabeth Peabody orphan homes at the annual Christmas party in Jacob Hall next Wednesday.

LEGION APPEAL FOR KIDDIES

An appeal for financial aid to help in helping to make about 2500 children in the South Boston district happy on Christmas day has been made by the American Legion.

For a number of years the Legion post has had a Christmas tree for the needy children of the district and the success of the effort depends upon the assistance received from contributors.

Contributions of clothing, money, or toys will be welcomed. They may be sent to Dave Nichols at the Perkins post headquarters on Broadway and they will be used to make some poor kiddie happy on Christmas day.

Raps 'Politics' in Hub Postmaster Row

STRONG criticism of the general acceptance of the appointment of Charles R. Gow as the new Boston postmaster before it has been officially announced, was expressed at the joint conference of women's clubs held in Arlington.

"We want to get politics out of the postoffice," declared Marian C. Nichols, State chairman of Civil Service. "Political influence is now taking place in what should be open competition."

Miss Nichols denounced the present "system of assessment," and cited the case of a postmaster who was a "honest" man and committed suicide when asked to contribute money. She said the Federal Government was a "stagnant pool" and she urged the women's clubs to take action.

Greeteresses were extended by Hollis M. Goff, chairman of the selection of Arlington; and Miss Edith M. Winn, president of the Arlington Women's Hostess Club.

Mrs. Philip H. Turner, director of the Eighth District, presided at the meeting, which was devoted to five-minute talks by state chairmen and round-table conferences.

Mrs. C. E. French, state chairman of international relations, advised the clubwomen to watch the crisis in relations between Bolivia and Paraguay.

"America," she told them, "is a little worried over the Monroe Doctrine."

The outstanding thought in Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge's address was that care be used in the selection of women for Xmas decorations. The journal and feather ground blue tie had been exterminated, and she said that club women propose to be extraneous from the club.

A pleasing program was offered by the Arlington Women's Club, which was led by Henry Gibson and Miss Edith M. Small of Walsley College.

An unusual feature of the conference was an exhibit of the work of the State Federation committee on social and industrial conditions. The exhibit was arranged by Mrs. Albert Bradley Carter, chairman.

A copy of a book, "How to Dress Well for 100 a Week," was given to each of the women present.

P. E. I. Society to Conduct Party
 The Extra Nour Club, of Prince Edward Island, will conduct a whist party in aid of the society's relief fund, next Tuesday night, in Intergovernmental Hall, Dudley st., Roxbury. A special program is being arranged by the committee in charge.

That's why Weston's English Quality Biscuits are baked so golden brown . . . so crunchy crisp . . . so delicately delicious . . . wax-wrapped, nut-dry . . . fresh for your tea-table.

Ask your grocer for the gold and purple package, or buy your favorites in bulk by the pound.

My name is

Address

Kindly fill out and mail to Goodfellow Editor, Boston American.

LEND HAND NOW, GOODFELLOWS!

When you would sacrifice an arm might have a rough and torn Goodfellow in his clasp, that he might find himself with the child of needy parents and there is no figured screen to ward off the breeze that her unwearied might be even because of hunger.

The Goodfellow Editor imparts upon you only the suggestion for a thought. Then he asks you to read the following cases:

18—South Boston: Mother pleading for five children: father ill for two months; rent and insurance provisions in arrears; children need clothing, also mother; family without fuel, and cold.

19—East Boston: Widow with seven children; two girls working for small wages; city aid only $6; one child ill; all need clothing.

GIRL FRIENDS

20—Medford: Girl, 24, ill for three months with arthritis, pleading for mother and six brothers and sisters; mother works but most of the money goes for medicine and treatment; father earning small money and work not steady; wants just a Goodfellow.

21—Cambridge: Widow, mother of two girls, both of whom need stockings and underwear; family desire Christmas basket.

If you want to be a Goodfellow for one or more families, write immediately to the Goodfellow Editor of the Boston Evening American and let out the brand published will, this article. State if you wish the district of Boston, or any city, or the section of a town, in which you would like to be a Goodfellow.

DO IT NOW!

The Goodfellow Editor will then send you the names and letters of the needy and you can have the hearty satisfaction of learning what is needed, buying it yourself and delivering it, too.

If you cannot give the time to the buying and delivering, the Goodfellow Editor will be glad to attend to it for you. Write only to the Goodfellow Editor, Boston Evening American, 2664 Washington St., Boston 24, Mass. What you wish to do, what you can do, or how you wish to provide for the needy, forward one or more of the printed letters of appeal that he will send you every day from home who does not.

AGRICULTURAL BILL CARRIES $143,148,047

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP)—The House received from its appropriations committee today the third of its big annual supply measures, that for the Agricultural Department, providing $143,148,047, a decrease of $15,544 from the total of the current year.

In looking over $33,848 from budget estimates for the next fiscal year, the committee adhered to its policy of trimming original recommendations as it did in both the Treasury and War and Navy bills.

In addition to the $143,148,047 the bill provides $11,848,436 for various needs with all appropriations of the department.

Among important items are $74,000,000 for federal aid highways; $25,000 for farm betterment; $1,100,000 for forest roads and trails; $1,750,000 for survey and reclamation work; $1,140,000 for an available unexpended balance of $1,140,000 for the purchase of land and $1,400,000 for agricultural experiment stations.

One hundred thousand dollars is provided for national forest fires, except for $100,000 for the purchase of forest and $1,000,000 for cooperation with the states in the prevention.

Ground Fog Nearly Halts Traffic In Springfield

Springfield, Dec. 14 (AP)—Motor and rail transportation was slowed nearly to a standstill for three hours today by a dense fog over the Connecticut valley.

Drivers were forced to drive with lights on. Though the fog was dense at street level the upper parts of office buildings were bathed in sunshine.

Going to the extreme, cars necessitated there were few collisions. Weather bureau officials explained the phenomenon as caused by contact of a warm air current with cold ground surfaces.

Faust Legend Universal in Appeal

By FRED TOYE
Radio Editor

ALTHOUGH the world is exempt from its art and its literature, it is not exempt from its legends. Perhaps the most universal and perennial legend is that of Faust, the man who sold his soul to the devil for knowledge and power. This legend has been adapted to the modern world in many forms, and it is no exception that it has been adapted to the radio.

The legend of Faust is a story of a man who is driven by a desire for knowledge and power to make a pact with the devil. He gains the knowledge and power he desires, but at the cost of his soul. The legend is a warning to us that the pursuit of knowledge and power can lead to our destruction if we are not careful.

The legend of Faust is a story that has captured the imagination of people for centuries. It is a story that is as relevant today as it was when it was first told. It is a story that reminds us of the dangers of the pursuit of knowledge and power, and it is a story that reminds us of the importance of morality.

KEEPS UP FAMILY ICE FAME

Leon Fitzgerald, goaltender of the Boston College hockey team, is the third member of his family to play for B. C. His brother, Jack, was a great Eagle goalie. And Pierce was a fine puck-carrier. Jack plays for the B. A. A. now. There will be quite a family war when B. C. plays the B. A. A. The battle between the teams has been postponed.

THE COMEBACK PARTY

SYRACUSE FIVE MEET HOBART

Syracuse, Dec. 14.—With the opening game, against Hobart, scheduled for Anheeburg gym tomorrow night, Coach Lew Andrews today announced his final cuts and revealed the names of the players who will make up the Syracuse University basketball squad for the 1928-29 season.

Andrews has not indicated which of the players are to make tomorrow, and it is entirely possible that very few men on the squad will be given an opportunity to play.

There are several combinations available. But inasmuch as all but three members of the squad are sophomores, no definite line may be had as to individual ability under for some time.

Passing the Puck

By BILL GRIMES

As the Bruins-Ame game failed to satisfy the "hungry for action" hockey fans, the boys will all be at the Arena tomorrow night for the Tiger-Eagle battle.

During the last meeting of these Canadian-American League clubs down in New Haven, one of the wildest melees in years was staged. It was a knock down and drag out affair from start to finish.

The New Haven team is composed of ex-league players, who look upon the Tigers as a crowd of amateurs. The Bruins still think that they are the cream of the Canadian-American League, which they would not admit they played hockey instead of doing their best to "lay the wood" to their opponents.

Rumor has it that Ken Renfrew, who has been a disturbing element in hockey for years, was released on the management of the Eagles after the Tiger fight. Judging from the hockey the Eagles played against Newack and Philadelphia, there may be something to this rumor.

MAGLIUS HAD GOOD ELEVEN

Maglius, Dec. 14.—With a record of eight victories and one defeat, the Maglius football team today claims recognition as one of the country's outstanding preparatory school eleven. A team without an individual star, the Maglius power centered in the line and in the back.

The Maglius team started the season with a 1-0 record in the first game of the season. In the second game, they played a 0-0 tie. In the third game, they played a 1-0 win. In the fourth game, they played a 1-0 win. In the fifth game, they played a 1-0 win.

Within a week the Maglius team had improved a record of 1-0 to 4-0. The team is now in the best of health and is ready to fight. He is a contender in the 10-round bout at the Boston Garden tonight.

And Harvard Thinks Princeton Is Rough!

Marmande, France (AP)—Rugby football has become so rough in France that newspapers everywhere have begun a movement to "clean up" the game.

A match between Marmande and Bergerac brought the movement to a head. A Marmande player virtually strangled the Bergerac captain, Beausseil, during a game while thousands of spectators looked on.

Beausseil was carried off the field unconscious, with his femur hanging out and foam on his lips, while Marmande riders booted. "Well done. Kill him!"

Police had to be summoned to keep them from attacking the rest of the Bergerac team. Beausseil narrowly escaped death. The sporting press said the time had come to put an end to such brutal playing, remarking that under present conditions in France a straitjacket was more suitable for players than a rugby jersey.

Martha Lee Tells of Condensed Milk

TWO foods in one is the record which condensed milk contains. Not only milk, but also sugar.

For this reason condensed milk is ideal for all foods which should contain both sugar and milk—puddings, cakes, candies, etc. When you use it, the amount of sugar which you would ordinarily use can be reduced. Also, for candies or "fudge" it is not necessary to cook the food as long, a large proportion of the water having already been evaporated from it.

Special recipes for using this economical form of milk are given below:

Hot Fruit Loaf—Cream 1 c sugar and 1 c. lard. Add 2 eggs, 1/2 cup milk and 2 1/2 cups flour. Mix thoroughly with the following ingredients: 1/2 cup raisins, 1/2 cup currants, 1/2 cup nuts, 1/2 cup molasses, 1/2 cup brown sugar, 1/2 cup cornmeal, 1/2 cup oatmeal, 1/2 cup wheat bran, 1/2 cup yeast, 1/2 cup salt. Bake in a 9x5 inch loaf pan at 350° for 1 hour.

Almond Fudge—Blend 1/2 c. of sifted confectioner's sugar with 1/2 c. of condensed milk, then add 1/2 lb. of among extract. Cool cake before spreading frosting.

Raspberry Sherbet—Rub 1 c. of raspberries through a strainer and stir in 1 c. orange juice, 1 cup lemon juice, 1/2 cup, grated orange rind and 1/2 c. condensed milk. Freeze. Pack in ice and salt for an hour or more after freezing. If the canned fruit is very sweet, a little more lemon juice may be desirable.

Linna Bean Soufflé—Blend to smother thoroughly 1/4 c. condensed milk, 1/4 c. water, 1 c. canned lima beans, 1/2 c. chopped green pepper, 1/2 c. cream, 1/2 c. pinonets, 1/2 cup chopped onion, 1 top, salt, 2 beaten eggs. Pour into a buttered baking dish and bake in a moderate oven at 350° for about 35 minutes.

This recipe can be changed into a corn pudding by omitting the water and substituting the contents of a 1/2 c. can of corn for the beans. The other ingredients and the time and temperature of baking are the same.

Four Sauce—Blend 1/4 c. of condensed milk and 1/4 c. hot water with 1/4 c. of vinegar and 1/4 c. of oil. Pour sauce over 2 c. of hot corn and serve.

Condensed Milk Mayonnaise—Beat 1/2 c. of condensed milk and 1/2 c. of oil together. Add 1/2 c. of vinegar and 1/2 c. of salt. Use a fork or rotary egg beater for the mixing. It is possible to add an extra cup of oil to this dressing if you like the flavor.

Faithfully yours, MARTHA LEE

Two Smart Costumes

At left, a three-piece costume in an original combination. The jacket, top of the skirt, and top and sleeves of the blouse are plain wool jersey in Havana brown. All are bordered with heavy jersey, blue knitted, in bands of dark brown, light brown and cream. The jacket is lined with cream jersey and the skirt is in heavy jersey showing the three colors.

At right, a good costume for sportswear sports at a winter sports resort is this three-piece in tweed, brown, beige and white. The short jacket is lined and turned back with plain beige "madras," a crepe wool. The skirt has plaits at the side, partly stitched. The blouse is tweed and the scarf deep of chins.

Elinor Glyn Advises:

By ELINOR GLYN.
AND now to sum up the whole subject of marriage, divorce, then it will be really mean, what moral responsibilities you will be taking on—what material responsibilities—and what are the drawbacks and what the joys?

Do not rush into it just because you are in love, and your George has made a proposal, and please do not leave him if you are not in love, but your vanity is merely soothing him by saying, "I am not in love with you."

Put every irrelevant contributing factor out of your head, and get down to the bedrock fact that marriage means an intimate link, both of body and mind—and that it is a matter of life or death, you can stand this.

Watch your own emotions and face the picture of what your future will probably be—and if you have any doubts or fears, then postpone the ceremony until you are sure.

Even if you are in love, if George's tastes and yours are quite divergent, remember that there will be many hours when the love episodes which may be very irksome to you will be his only joy.

A girl told me once that she was looking for a new assistant for her favorite to a museum to see what things interested him, and if they were the same as those which interested her. She had been saved, she said, from three unhappy marriages by this method.

George should also be quite sure that Mary is a good person, and that her being plunged into that difficult situation for young men called marriage. For he must remember that in this country where the sympathy is always with the woman, if the affair goes on the rocks, there is always almost certain to be a scandal.

And to both George and Mary I would say, "Look before you leap," but having leaped, use all the horse sense you both possess to reach the safe bank of understanding.

The Dread of Cancer

By LOUIS H. BISCH, M. D., Ph.D.
Famous Authority on Health and Psychology.

THE cause of cancer still baffles the persistent researchers of science. Each year cancer kills some 115,000 of the inhabitants of the United States alone.

Doctors have put faith, of late, in special efforts to educate the public about cancer and to warn them that, with our present knowledge of the disease, the only hope of checking or curing it lies in its early recognition and prompt removal.

People should not become unnecessarily alarmed, of course, and it certainly is true that if one stresses the importance of some dread disease and emphasizes that dread disease and symptoms, there are always nervous and suggestive people who will start to worry, and possibly become convinced that they have the disease even if they have not.

Certainly health propaganda should not cause fear of cancer, but early alarming the exceptional few. They can find out very readily any way whether there is any foundation for alarm or not. All they need do is consult a doctor, private or public, and, if necessary, have a biopsy.

It is not best, though, to discover what is wrong with your body and then wait before it can be removed. This is unquestionably true about cancer. Thousands would be saved each year if only they were not discouraged when the cancer is in its early stages.

Some day a sure cure for cancer may be discovered, but that time is not yet. Surgery, radiation and what we must depend upon now, and there seem to be no cures if employed promptly.

It is not emphasized enough that cancer starts from things which, in the beginning, are not cancer. All sorts of lumps in the skin may be at its time point. Most birthmarks should therefore be investigated to see if they are growing into cancerous tissue.

stent sore places on the tongue and anywhere in the mouth should be suspected. Ulcers of the teeth may cause cancer trouble. Constant pain in the stomach or the joints should be investigated. Breast cancer often comes from chronic nipple irritations.

The thing to do, if you are in doubt, is to find out. In fact, even if you are not in doubt, let your physician look you over every now and again and let him form an opinion whether or not your arthritis and pains are suspicious.

Dr. Charles Mayo of the Rochester Clinic, has made extensive experiments on mice and animals and he believes that an inheritance factor in cancer exists.

This does not mean that if one in your family has had a cancer you will therefore and inevitably develop it. It does mean, however, that if your father or mother, grandparents or others in the family tree did suffer that way, you should be specially alert to have yourself examined as I have just outlined.

Could it cause fear of cancer, but early alarming the exceptional few. They can find out very readily any way whether there is any foundation for alarm or not. All they need do is consult a doctor, private or public, and, if necessary, have a biopsy.

Doughnuts

a sure way to the heart of any boy or man

HAVE you ever heard of a man who didn't confess to a weakness for doughnuts—that is, of course, if they have been properly fried?

The doughnut at its best has a lovely brown outside and a tender, delicate inside—without even a hint of fatty taste. To make doughnuts like this you must fry them in a delicate fat. And if you wish to know how delicate a fat can be, taste Crisco just as you taste your milk; just as you test your eggs.

Crisco's flavor is sweet and fresh and naturally it lends this sweet freshness to the doughnuts you fry in it. Moreover, Crisco fries doughnuts, or anything else, without smoking up your sweet, clean kitchen.

Why Can Not the United States Mind Its Own Business?

and policy of all preceding Presidents, and put the country into the great European war.

Mr. Wilson spent thousands of millions of dollars for our part in the war, he loaned thousands of millions of dollars of American money to foreign nations, and he practically GAVE AWAY thousands of millions of dollars of the American people's money, as far as our ever getting it back is concerned.

Then Mr. Wilson went abroad and brought home the League of Nations proposal and submitted it to the people of the United States, and the people buried him and his party with him in the political ash can; and there the party has been ever since, because of the almost unanimous repudiation of the Democratic foreign policy by the voters of the United States.

There was certainly no mandate in that situation for the country to meddle in foreign affairs.

Later the Republican administration took up the remains of Mr. Wilson's League of Nations, refitted and refurbished it, called it by a different name, and went before the public for a mandate to meddle in European matters and allow Europe to meddle in our matters through the medium of a so-called World Court.

This proposition was also submitted to the people in the elections of 1928, and nearly all the senators who had voted for the World Court and who were up for re-election were defeated, and nearly all the candidates for senator who were opposed to the World Court were elected.

And some of the senators who had voted for the World Court, when they saw how the political wind was blowing, changed their attitude and said they were sorry and would vote against the World Court hereafter.

So AGAIN the mandate of the people to their Government was to attend to its own business and look after its own people and leave foreign complications to foreign nations.

In spite of the very obvious and definite attitude of the American people, however, in spite of the repeated mandate to mind our own business, our public men insist upon seeking publicity through foreign pacts and poses.

Mr. Kellogg now has a treaty which he says does not mean anything, and which probably does not as far as the action of European nations is concerned, but which, if it ever should become an actual treaty through the approval of the Senate, might mean a lot as far as the peace and independence of the United States is concerned.

If the Senate thinks that Mr. Kellogg's pact expresses the policy of George Washington and the spirit of the American people, let them submit this piece of publicity and promotion to the voters and ask for a mandate.

They will get a mandate, and it will be the same one they have had twice before; namely, to mind their own business and attend to the welfare of the people of the United States, and keep free from foreign entanglements of whatever nature.

Even President-elect Hoover, as soon as he was elected, seemed to think it was incumbent upon him to get out of the United States and begin to be concerned with other interests and other affairs than those of the people of the United States.

He went to South America on a mission of peace and good-will.

Peace and good-will already existed between the United States and the republics of South America; and peace and good-will have not apparently been encouraged among the nations of South America by Mr. Hoover's visit.

Paraguay and Bolivia are in each other's hair at the moment of this writing, and the anarchists of the Argentine are playfully preparing to blow Mr. Hoover up at the earliest opportunity.

We quote headlines from the ultra-conservative Los Angeles Times, a paper which certainly does not overstate the situation:

ARGENTINA REVEALS PLOT TO ASSASSINATE HOOVER

Explosives Seized in Rooms Used by Anarchist Confederators; Planned to Bomb Train

BOLIVIAN LEAP TO ARMS AS WAR CLOUDS DARKEN

Class of 1929 Called to Colors; Even Boy Scouts Volunteer; Paraguay Also in Ferment

Mr. Hoover is a good and a great man, and he will make a good and a great President if he will only stay at home and attend to the business of the people of the United States. He was not elected to be blown up in some South American country.

He was not elected to try to create peace and good will between South American countries.

There will be no lack of peace and good will toward the United States if we mind our own business.

But if we do not mind our own business, we may get into trouble almost anywhere and almost any time.

In view of the repeated mandates of the people of the United States to mind our own business, WHY DON'T WE DO IT?

Why can't our politicians get sufficient publicity and sufficient reputation of the right kind by following the American people's wishes and considering the American people's welfare and attending to the duties they were elected to attend to?

WILLIAM RANDOLPH HEARST.

The Unexpected Happened

The old story about the man biting the dog really happened. Ten thousand sportsmen have shot their dogs instead of shooting the rabbit, and comic artists have made pictures of it. But this time the dog shot the man. A man put his gun on the ground. A dog put his paw on the trigger, and shot and killed Phil Henry, one of a hunting party in Colorado.

The original story, attributed to John Bogart, best city editor, ran: "If a dog bites a man, that's nothing. If a man bites a dog, that's news."

LISTEN, WORLD!

By ELSIE ROBINSON

CHRIST—that noble vision. To you life may be little more than a vision. You may know little of life—may be indifferent or even hostile to church—yet in spite of that you have felt the need of Christ in many a weak or desperate hour.

Not the actual need of the man, but the need of that which the man wants, the need for which he lives, the faith for which he died. That dream and faith have persisted not because they were part of the life of the young Hebrew, but because they were and are a part of the life of all men.

You, too, have dreamed of being brave and honorable, pure and kind, as life dreamed. And sometimes that dream has flamed so brightly in your heart that you have been willing to die for it—almost. Always, whatever the circumstances of your life, there has been the hope of something better, the picture of a nobler life to which you lifted longing eyes.

So it is with all of us. Uplifted high above our little, greedy lives there flames that hope which men call Christ. Into that hope has gone all that men have dreamed of Beauty and Courage and Truth.

We shall not lose Him. He will never die. He lives on through our enduring longing to behold His face. Copyright, 1928, Elsie Robinson, Inc.

The following is summarized in part from a letter of Mr. Roy D. Keels, Vice-President of Bee-News Publishing Company

Business: Omaha Bee-News, published mornings, evenings, and Sundays, had an average combined net paid daily circulation for the six months ended September 30, 1928, of over 120,000—one of the largest in its territory. The paper is an important unit of Hearst Publications, Incorporated, one of the largest and most successful newspaper groups in the United States. Other members of the group are The San Francisco Examiner, San Francisco Call and Post, The Los Angeles Examiner, Los Angeles Herald, Oakland Post-Enquirer and Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

Security: The Debentures, in the opinion of counsel, will be a direct obligation of the Bee-News Publishing Company and will be secured by a first (closed) mortgage on all of the Company's fixed assets, rights and franchises now owned or hereafter acquired.

Debenture Retirement Agreement and Guarantee: Hearst Publications, Incorporated, will execute a collateral agreement binding itself to purchase on demand the entire assets and business of the Company for a cash consideration aggregating the total indebtedness of the Company then outstanding, including these Debentures, and to deposit with the Trustee that part of the purchase price sufficient for the immediate payment and redemption with accrued interest of all the then outstanding Debentures. This Agreement will be assigned to the Trustee under the Trust Indenture securing the Debentures and, as provided in the Indenture, shall be enforced by the Trustee only in the event of any default in the payment of the principal or interest of these Debentures. Under the terms of a Guarantee Agreement, these Debentures will be unconditionally guaranteed by Mr. William Randolph Hearst as to the due and punctual payment of both principal and interest.

Earnings: The consolidated earnings of Hearst Publications, Incorporated, and present subsidiaries (excluding Bee-News Publishing Company), since their respective dates of acquisition, after all charges including interest on its First Mortgage and Collateral Trust 6 1/2 % Serial Gold Bonds, were officially reported for the period from January 1 to October 7, 1928 as $4,320,770.75. Comparable certified earnings for the calendar year 1927 were $3,941,879.76; average, calendar years 1922 to 1928 (Jan. 1 to Oct. 7), $4,456,646.77. OUTLOOK GOOD FOR BUSINESS IS RANK HERE

General business situation continues satisfactory, according to the monthly review of economic conditions by the National City Bank of New York, which notes that "what this hesitancy has been felt pending the outcome of the election had been dispelled and the country now looks forward to the Christmas trade with every assurance of record-breaking volume." Though certain industries, notably iron and steel and automobile manufacture, showed a seasonal recession last month, business generally is maintained on a comfortable level over last year.

On the subject of the stock market the review says: "The stock market finds protection in the fact that the Federal Reserve bank cannot make more tight for one purpose without affecting rates for all purposes. It is practically impossible to pour credit into the general business pool without having some of it pass into the speculative pool. It never was supposed by well-informed persons that the supply of credit for brokers' loans could be permanently shut off.

Turning from stocks to bonds, the review notes that "the market naturally had its effect upon the bond markets. Although most groups have been inclined toward optimism, few showed any appreciable price improvement until recent weeks. Prices seem finally to have resumed their upward trend. Whether or not this improvement will continue will depend on money conditions during the turn of the year. There is every indication that first of the year interest rates will be somewhat higher, which promises a record, will seek early reinvestment in the security markets. Such a movement would, of course, have a favorable effect upon the level of bond prices.
